

JUNIATA COLLEGE BULLETIN

Published Quarterly by Juniata College

VOLUME LXVI • NUMBER 1

FEBRUARY, 1968

DR. CALVERT N. ELLIS

President Ellis announces plan to retire

Dr. Calvert N. Ellis has announced his intention to retire as President of Juniata College not later than June 30, 1969.

The decision, signaling the end of a remarkable 25 years of growth and progress for the College, was made known to the Board of Trustees at their fall meeting.

At the same time a new program for development and improvement was launched with characteristic vigor by Dr. Ellis, when he recently opened the drive for a $2,000,000 College Center.

This first phase of the multi-million dollar campaign is designed to assure Juniata's place of distinction in liberal arts higher education.

Dr. Ellis has frequently stated the goal of Juniata, declaring its purpose to be the "production of superior graduates through emphasizing the worth of the individual, the development of a sense of responsibility, academic competence and the recognition that there are values beyond sight, sound and touch."

Difficult to replace

Thousands of alumni from the College on the hill can testify to the dedication by Dr. and Mrs. Ellis to the welfare of Juniata, its faculty, students and staff.

In his statement to the Trustees Dr. Ellis said that "Juniata needs vigorous leadership and new ideas for the years ahead which will be critical ones for the independent, church related, college."

The Trustees have accepted the decision by Dr. Ellis with genuine reluctance, according to Dr. John C. Baker, chairman. "We respect his decision, but without him Juniata will hardly be the same."

"Dr. and Mrs. Ellis have served the College so well," Dr. Baker continued, "it will be most difficult to replace them. Generations of faculty and students join with the Trustees and staff in expressing their appreciation to these two wonderful people."

The Trustees have selected a committee under the chairmanship of Dr. Baker, president emeritus of Ohio University and former Dean of Harvard, to search for a successor.

One of the best known of Pennsylvania's educators, Dr. Ellis succeeded his father Dr. Charles C. Ellis, as sixth president of Juniata in 1943. Since then, he has guided the College, founded by members of the Church of the Brethren, to a position of national academic distinction.

Campus growth

The opening of a large Academic Classroom Building in January, 1968 will add yet another to the string of building projects launched under the leadership of Dr. Ellis. Included are the Norman J. Brumbaugh Science Complex, the L. A. Beeghly Library, the Memorial Physical Education Building, the Shoemaker Art Galleries and five residences for men and women.

In addition to presiding over faculty meetings, holding a monthly parley with students, directing the vitally important development programs, and conferring with staff, faculty and students, Dr. Ellis has also found time to be active in state and national educational circles.

He has represented private education in Washington, D. C. since 1944 when he was an adviser to the Commission on Education of the Congress. He has testified before committees of Congress in behalf of higher education for 20 years and has served as a member of the Federal Relations Committee of the American Council on Education.

Dr. John C. Baker

Dr. Ellis is chairman-elect of the Association of American Colleges and a member of the Board of Directors. He has served as president of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, of the Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities and the Foundation of Independent Colleges of Pennsylvania.

Currently he is serving as a member of the Higher Education Advisory Committee to the Education Compact of the States.

An active leader in the Church of the Brethren, Dr. Ellis served as the moderator of Annual Conference and as chairman of the General Brotherhood Board for ten years. He has been a delegate to world-wide church meetings in Amsterdam, Evanston, Ill., and Lund, Sweden and has toured various parts of the world to survey Protestant missions.

In addition to educational and church duties, Dr. Ellis was for 20 years manager of the D. M. Wertz Orchards in Waynesboro, Pa. In Huntingdon, he is a director of the Penn Central National Bank, a trustee of the Blair Memorial Hospital and an honorary member of the Rotary Club.

In 1950, Dr. Ellis was honored with a Doctor of Divinity degree from Bethany Theological Seminary in Chicago and in 1956 with the Doctor of Laws from Manchester College, Indiana, and from his alma mater in 1963.

Educated at Juniata College, Princeton University and Princeton Theological Seminary, where he earned his A.B., M.A. and Th.B., he was awarded his Ph.D. by Yale University in 1932. He did graduate study at the University of Gottingen in Germany, the University of Zurich in Switzerland and Harvard University.

Married to the former Elizabeth Wertz of Waynesboro, Pa., they have a daughter, Mrs. Ronald L. (Elizabeth Anne) Cherry, M.A., assistant professor of the Humanities at Juniata and David Wertz Ellis, Ph.D., associate professor of chemistry at the University of New Hampshire.

Record of Growth

Partial list of buildings

- 1951—Memorial Physical Education Building
- 1955—North Hall
- 1957—Lesher Hall
- 1961—Sherwood Hall
- 1962—South Hall
- 1963—L. A. Beeghly Library
- 1965—Brumbaugh Science Center
- 1966—Tussey and Terrace Complex
- 1967—Academic Classroom Building

Academic Center decorated for Christmas

Annual Juniata fund key to future growth

The importance of the individual key-notes the current Annual Juniata Fund drive.

Director of Alumni Relations, Glenn C. Zug '51, points to the significance of wide participation by many enthusiastic small donors and their effect on the large donors.

"We recognize," he said, "the alumni and church support for the College as the key to continued corporate and foundation giving."

Vitally important to Juniata's success is the 31% of alumni who contribute as contrasted to a national average of 21.5%.

Zug stressed the current emphasis on personal contact and said that Juniata has always taken pride in this approach.

The 1967-68 campaign has the following goals:

Alumni	$165,000
Church	32,000
Parents	10,000
Matching Gifts	11,000
Students	2,000

Describing the importance of the Annual Fund to Juniata's future, H. Gerald Quigg, director of development, said the total of $127,000 raised by the alumni last year, represented the equivalent of the interest on $3,000,000.

"Alumni, church and other annual support constitutes our living endowment," he said.

The building of a $2,000,000 College Center is the first phase of a campaign designed to insure a future of distinction for Juniata.

In support of the Center the Student Government voted to raise $2,000 as their contribution. The building will house the Book Store, Post Office, Snack Shop, Recreation rooms, Student Radio and Publications offices, Lounge, private dining rooms, large dining halls and meeting rooms.

Chairman of the Student Fund is Mark Faulkner '68, from Johnstown, Pennsylvania.

Expansion of campus facilities and the growth of the student population has sharpened the need for a College Center to unify the campus by serving as a focal point for all activities and organizations.

Leaders of the annual campaign include: Joseph R. Good '33, director of the fund; Denton B. Emmert '36, matching gifts; Mrs. Roy W. Brandau, parents committee; John B. Brown, Huntingdon area; George G. Pote '55, fund agent general chairman and Dr. George L. Detweiler, Church chairman.

Juniata Choir on Winter tour

The 55 voice Juniata Concert Choir will present 16 concerts throughout Maryland and Pennsylvania starting January 27.

The choir is directed by Richard E. Probert, national teaching fellow who has built a reputation as a fine choral conductor.

The choir appearances are as follows: Jan. 27—First Church of the Brethren, York; Jan. 28—Church of the Brethren, Chambersburg; Church of the Brethren, Waynesboro; Jan. 29—University Park Church of the Brethren, Hyattsville, Md.; Jan. 30—New Windsor High School, New Windsor, Md.; Pipe Creek Church of the Brethren, New Windsor, Md.; Jan. 31—Clear Spring (Md.) High School; North Hagerstown (Md.) High School and Church of the Brethren.

Feb. 1—Cairnbrook-Shade Central School; Somerset Church of the Brethren; Feb. 2—Somerset High School; Greensburg Church of the Brethren; Feb. 3—Pittsburgh Church of the Brethren; Feb. 4—Natrona Heights Presbyterian Church; and Westmont Church of the Brethren, Johnstown.

The program will consist of sacred and secular music. A feature of this season's repertoire will be the contemporary composition "Peaceable Kingdom" by Randall Thompson. In addition the choir will sing works from the Baroque, Classical and Romantic periods with violins and a brass ensemble adding color.

Architects' drawing of the College Center

Juniata Briefs

Summer Sessions will be held on the campus of Juniata College from June 17 to August 23, 1968, according to Dr. Earl C. Kaylor, Jr., director. The offerings will be similar to last year with the Field School in Anthropology continuing to work on the 8,000 year old sites in the area.

Dr. Calvert N. Ellis was Chairman of an evaluation team of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools at Princeton Theological Seminary from December 3 to 6, 1967.

The faculty has elected an advisory committee to assist the Board of Trustees in their search for a new president of Juniata. Elected were Dr. Robert G. Lewis, professor of French; Dr. Duane F. Stroman, associate professor of sociology; Dr. William E. Russey, assistant professor of chemistry; Ralph B. Church, associate professor of English; Dr. Earl C. Kaylor, Jr., professor of religion and Dr. Esther M. Doyle, professor of English.

Ray E. Day '66 is living in Goshen, St. Elizabeth, Jamaica as a Peace Corps volunteer with the task of instructing five primary and one secondary school in educational television utilization. He wrote that his main effort is in community involvement including athletics, adult literacy, adult education, vocational training and guidance and a community center project.

CAMPUS CALENDAR

Jan. 29—Spring Term begins

WRESTLING: Home

Feb. 3—St. Francis

Feb. 20—Elizabethtown

Feb. 27—Indiana

BASKETBALL: Home

Feb. 3—Wilkes

Feb. 14—Susquehanna

Feb. 21—Philadelphia Textile

Feb. 24—Upsala

FOCUS FILMS:

Feb. 22—Intolerance

Feb. 23—The Clever Dummy/
She Done Him Wrong

FOCUS SERIES:

Feb. 7—The Alvin Ailey Dance
Theatre

March 14—Commedia Dell'Arte
Players

FOCUS EXHIBITION:

Feb. 26 to March 18—The Articulate
Subconscious

OTHER:

Feb. 12—Homecoming Choir Concert

Feb. 26—Linda Burkhart/
Edward Craft, vocalists

Feb. 28—Willard Trask/Reading

March 7, 8 and 9—Major Play

"Medea"

March 27—Philadelphia Trio

Dr. Robert E. Wagoner, assistant professor of philosophy, recently successfully defended his doctoral dissertation at Harvard University. The Doctor of Philosophy degree will be awarded during ceremonies held in June, 1968.

Dr. Young W. Kihl, associate professor of political science, had a review published in Orbis, the Quarterly Journal of the Foreign Policy Research Institute, about the new study "International Relations: A General Theory" by John W. Burton. The review appeared in the summer issue of this University of Pennsylvania publication.

A grant from the National Science Foundation is being used to support research leading toward the creation of synthetic rocks and minerals under the direction of Dr. Frederick Nagle, assistant professor of geology. Very few universities, let alone colleges are doing the kind of research we have here, Nagle said.

The Sports Information Director, David Leonard, requests that all alumni who are not receiving the J Letter, but would like to receive it, write to his office.

Dr. Donald M. Rockwell, dean of academic affairs, announced that Miss Marjorie Hemmerly and Cary Davis have been accepted by Drew University for the spring term of the United Nations Semester Program. Both students were awarded scholarships.

The two Juniata juniors will spend three days a week on the Drew campus and two days in research and seminars at the United Nations in New York.

JUNIATA

Bulletin

HUNTINGDON, PENNSYLVANIA 16652

FEBRUARY, 1968

VOLUME LXVI • NUMBER 1

THE JUNIATA COLLEGE BULLETIN is published quarterly (Winter, Spring, Summer, Fall). Second class postage paid at Huntingdon, Pa. Send Form 3579 to Juniata College, 17th and Moore Streets, Huntingdon, Pa. 16652.
Editor: Barnard C. Taylor.

SECOND CLASS POSTAGE